

SAID WIFE STIFLED CREATIVE ABILITY, SHE GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. D. Z. Doty Freed From
Head of Famous Players
Scenario Department.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 2.—Douglas Zabriskie Doty, formerly of New York and now chief scenario editor of the Famous Players-Lasky Film Corporation, was divorced yesterday by Mrs. Josephine W. Doty.

While the decree was granted on the sole ground of desertion, the various depositions introduced, including one from Harvey J. O'Higgins, the author and playwright, reveal that Doty left his wife because, he said, "she stifled my creative ability." References to Mrs. Corone Uzzell of New York are made in the depositions.

Doty is the former editor of the Century Magazine and Secretary of the Century Company. From 1914 to 1917 he was editor of the Cosmopolitan Magazine and later literary adviser and member of the staff of Harper's Magazine. He is also prominent in New York club circles.

Mrs. Doty, in her deposition, says her husband became enraged at some trivial matter while they were at tea one afternoon in 1919 and used such language that she left him and returned home. Four months after the separation he wrote to her:

"I miss you and I miss the kiddie and all the comfortableness of a real home. But for nearly six months now I have deeply loved another woman. If I never saw her again I would go on loving her just the same until I died. Naturally I want to be freed so that we can marry and go abroad and live. Under the circumstances it (the separation) is best for you both."

By the terms of a stipulation filed yesterday, Doty agrees to give his wife $250 a month for the support of herself and daughter, Dorothy Whitling Doty, now fourteen years old, for the next eight years, beginning at the time she is sixteen. Under the circumstances it (the separation) is best for you both."

At the home of Mrs. Corone Uzzell, No. 235 West 11th Street, a man who said he was her son, declared it was "all bunk" that Mrs. Uzzell would marry Doty.

JOHN VANCE CHENEY DEAD.
SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 2.—John Vance Cheney, well-known California poet, died at his home here yesterday after a long illness. He is survived by his widow, Mr. Cheney was seventy-four years old and for a number of years practiced law in New York City.

DEMONSTRATION WEEK
Osteo-tarsal Shoes

(Continuing Until Friday)

THE inventor of this shoe will demonstrate its corrective features—features that have won instant recognition from physicians, foot specialists and the Y. W. C. A.

He will explain the function of its arch guide, soft and hard rubber heel, the broad tread, the flexible arch and the straight inside line, and by means of the X Ray Foot-scope he will determine for you any present or impending foot abnormality that would be benefited through the guidance of the Osteo-tarsal Shoe.

These consultations will be without obligation on your part and individual attention to each case with advice in perfect fitting of Osteo-tarsal Shoes will be given.
